* To reduce financial burden on students in case of illness or injury. Students enrolled in the plan can receive 80% of medical expenses in reimbursement up to 1,000,000KRW per semester.
 Payment should be made through KRW. The USD exchange rate is stated only for reference.

2. Health Insurance

All of POSTECH’s prospective students MUST join or purchase one of the following three insurance plans:

1) Health insurance plan of their home country that covers most illnesses or injuries in a foreign land (i.e., Korea). In this case, applicants must submit a document of verification to International Student and Scholar Services (ISSS) prior to their arrival at POSTECH.
2) National Health Insurance Service (NHIS). Students are required to pay approximately 40,000 KRW per month, the amount being accumulated since the most recent date of arrival. NHIS provides a wide range of coverage for various injuries and illnesses. Furthermore, instead of getting reimbursed afterwards, patients can pay the discounted amount from the start at the medical institutions.

3) Korean Private Health Insurance. Students are required to pay approximately 200,000 ~ 250,000 KRW per year. Please note that the Korean Private Health Insurance covers fewer illnesses and injuries than NHIS. Also, unlike NHIS, patients are required to pay the entire amount at the medical institutions, and then get a certain amount of reimbursement by submitting required evidential documents.

3. Financial Aid

■ External Financial Aid

▶ Korean Government Scholarship Program (KGSP)

The Korean Government Scholarship Program is designed to support international students pursuing higher education in Korea, with the aim of promoting international exchange in education, as well as mutual friendship amongst the participating countries. POSTECH is one of the designated universities in Korea, and the application period is from February to March every year.

▶ POSCO Asia Fellowship

Awarded to prospective applicants from Asian countries that will be enrolled in Fall semester. POSCO Asia Fellows are recommended by POSTECH to the POSCO TJ Park Foundation after they pass POSTECH’s admissions process. Students who have an Asian nationality and wish to be recommended as POSCO Asia Fellows may indicate it in their online application.

■ Internal Financial Aid

▶ POSTECH Teaching or Research Assistantship (TA/RA)

Available to graduate students who are selected as teaching or research assistants by their advisors. It is mostly mandatory for students but may be different depending on each department’s regulation. Living allowance, tuition fee and dormitory fee would be covered by this assistantship.

▶ POSTECH Fellowship for Excellent International Students (PFES)

Awarded to Vietnamese applicants who 1) are lecturers at POSTECH’s partner universities in Vietnam (HUS, HUST, UET, HCMUS, HCMUT), 2) hold a master’s degree, and 3) wish to receive a doctoral degree at POSTECH. The application period is from February to March.

▶ POSTECH Settlement Allowance for New International Students

Eligible to incoming international graduate students from the outside of Korea and specially separated from the other internal scholarships. It covers settlement allowance as well as air fare (subsidy).

※ The amount and eligibility criteria are subject to change without prior notice.
Appendix 1: Frequently Asked Questions

Application

Q1: I am in my last semester of bachelor’s/master’s degree. Am I eligible to apply for the master’s/doctoral degree for the following semester?

Applicants who are in their last semester of bachelor’s or master’s degree are eligible of applying for the enrollment of the following semester under the condition that their bachelor’s/master’s degree will be awarded before they enroll at POSTECH.

Q2: Do I have to send the documents that I uploaded during the online application process by post?

The documents applicants uploaded online will be printed out by the Graduate Admissions and Student Affairs Office. Therefore, applicants only need to send the aforementioned documents listed in “Submit Required Documents by Post.”

Q3: How will I know whether my documents have arrived?

The status of delivery can be checked in our online admission system.

Q4: How do I pay the application fee online?

Applicants must pay the application fee via credit card. However, if applicants have problems with making their payment online via credit card, follow the following instructions:

1) Install payment system program (Active X).

2) POSTECH’s payment system (LG U+) adopts 3D-Secure authentication via VISA or MASTER. If you have a card that does not obtain 3D-Secure authentication, payment is not possible. Therefore, applicants should apply the 3D-Secure authentication to their card firm in order to be able to make the payments.

Q5: What if I want to revise my online application?

Applicants are able to revise their online application until they press on the final “Submit” button and make the application payments. In the process, they can save and revise their application continuously until the deadline. After applicants make their payments or the deadline is over, it is no longer possible for applicants to edit their application.

Q6: I am currently a prospective graduate. When do I have to submit my degree certificate/certificate of graduation?

Applicants who are not able to submit their degree certificate/certificate of graduation at the stage of their online application because they are prospective graduates are required to submit the certificate after they are enrolled in POSTECH. It should be submitted to the Office of Graduate Admissions and Student Affairs.

◎ Language Proficiency

Q1: What if I do not meet the required score for English proficiency?
Since POSTECH’s language of instruction is mainly English, prospective students must reach an average level of English proficiency. Therefore, all applicants are required to prove their English proficiency through an official test or a document that proves the instruction language of applicants’ institution. Refer to the contents of “Eligibility” previously.

Q2: Is the Institutional Testing Program (ITP) hosted by institutions other than POSTECH acceptable?
ITP held by other institutions is not acceptable when applying to POSTECH’s graduate program. Only that hosted by POSTECH is valid.

Q3: Can other English Proficiency Tests (e.g. GRE) substitute the English Proficiency Tests listed previously?
No other English Proficiency Tests can substitute the English Proficiency Tests listed previously. You have to acquire the minimum score of at least one of the previously indicated tests. However, if you do possess other English Proficiency Score or certificates, you can submit them along with the compulsory requirements.

Q4: How can I get a document for “Proof of Instruction Language”?
Applicants whose institution performs all of the lectures in English are qualified to substitute the English Proficiency Test with a document that verifies the institution’s instruction language. If the applicant’s institution does not have such an official document, he/she can submit other documents (e.g. transcript, enrollment certificate, etc.) with the institution’s original seal and the following phrase: “It is hereby verified that the instruction language of (institution’s name) is English.”

Q5: Do I have to be proficient in the Korean language?
Korean Language Proficiency is not an essential requirement for application. However, applicants who have minimum capacity in Korean can be preferred.

◎ Financial Aid

Q1: How can I apply for the Korean Government Scholarship Program (KGSP)?
The notice regarding the Korean Government Scholarship Program (KGSP) is posted between the beginning of February and mid-March every year. Applicants can choose to apply for KGSP through one of the following two tracks:
1) Applying to POSTECH directly and then being recommended to GKS
2) Being recommended by the Korean Embassy at the applicant’s country to designated universities
Please keep an eye on the notice board of our website (http://admission.postech.ac.kr/mainUsen.do) or of the government website (http://www.niied.go.kr/eng/index.do) for further updates and more information.
